

I dont think there is anything wrong with the level of "voilence" on tv these days. If parents would do their jobs and watch what their kids are watching or send them to bed at decent hours we wouldnt have this problem. As it is TV doesnt get violent until after 9pm in most states ive lived in and kids should rightly be in bed by then